By Taking a Ribbon, Girl Sends Bullet Into Lover's Head

One End of Ribbon Was Attached to a Revolver Concealed Under Cow's Coat.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 27.—Arthur Hiram Cow, of New York, died at midnight in a local hospital from a bullet wound in his head. According to the story told to the police by his supposed fiancée, Miss Emily Wheeler, she played an innocent part in his death.

The police version is this: Cow came from New York today and took the Wheeler residence in Stratford, near here, spending the evening with Miss Wheeler. He gave her an engagement ring, but before she could say anything he handed her the end of a ribbon. The other end of the ribbon was attached to the trigger of a revolver which Cow had concealed under his coat.

Miss Wheeler asked what the ribbon was for and Cow replied that it was "a surprise." At his request she pulled the ribbon, which caused the revolver to explode and the bullet crashed into Cow's brain.

Miss Wheeler summoned help and Cow was taken to the hospital. She recently had returned from a trip in Bermuda, where he went to recuperate from a nervous breakdown.

VAUDEVILLE MANAGERS SUED FOR BIG DAMAGES

New York, April 27.—The country's leading vaudeville booking agencies are plaintiffs in a suit which was filed today in the federal court here charging conspiracy in their refusal to book certain attractions offered by the plaintiffs.

The suits are brought by Charles P. Bonham, who maintains theatrical agencies in this city; London and Bristol, and Clifford E. Fisher, who has similar offices in London and Paris against the United Booking Office of America; the Central Vaudeville Production company; B. Marcellini, Ltd.; A. Paul Keith, Frederick F. Proctor, Edward J. Albee, John J. Murdoch, Morris Meyerfeld, Jr., and Martin Beck.

The petitioners allege that they have suffered damages of $100,000 each, and that the Sherman law of free trade violation, it is alleged that since the filing of the suit, the Marcellini company has suffered a loss of $100,000, and that the Keith, or Orpheum, circuit has been vented in the Marcellini concern.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Drink lots of water.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys try their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork they do, and the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night, when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in uric acid, to break up and eliminate uric acid, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot hurt, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

JAPANESE RESISTED TO IMMEDIATE CHINA

According to Pekin Reports. New Japanese Demands Said to Be More Menacing Than the Old.

Pekin, April 28.—(3:25 a. m.)—With the new draft of the Japanese demands on China in the hands of the Chinese foreign minister, interest is aroused in the nature of the modifications Japan has made in the original document. President Yuan Shi Kai and his advisers have examined the demands as amended, but no decision has been reached and they are likely to be the subject of further discussions.

Group one of the original demands has not been altered from the form to which the Chinese government already has agreed. This group relates to Shantung province.

The group dealing with South Manchuria, to six articles of which China also has agreed, remains unchanged. The second article of group three, bearing on property rights and interests of the Manchurian company, is eliminated, but the first article of that group is made stronger from the Japanese viewpoint by requiring that China shall promptly compel shareholders of the Manchurian company to accept the formation of a joint company, which shall include the two nations.

The Japanese already had accepted the Chinese proposal regarding group four, which provides that the Chinese government shall not cede or lease to any third power any island, port or harbor along the coast.

(The Chinese government's proposal with respect to group 4, was to the effect that while it was willing to make public declaration that China should never cede or lease a port, harbor or island to another power, it would decline to pledge itself to that effect to Japan.)

New Proposal More Menacing

The new draft entirely reconstructs group five in a manner which the Chinese representatives declare is more menacing, because, they say, the amendments are based on statements which La Cheng-Hsing, the Chinese foreign minister, made in the conference with the Japanese minister, Koki, and M. Ota and which, it is alleged, the Japanese are attempting to disguise as a pledge to Japan. Further it is declared that the Chinese foreign minister permitted himself to be drawn into a discussion of these demands, which Yuan Shi Kai had instructed him to refuse to discuss.

Group five comprises seven articles relating to the employment by the Chinese government of Japanese as advisers in political, financial and military affairs, supervision of the Chinese police, the right of Japanese ownership of land for the building of hospitals, churches and schools, the purchase of munitions of war from Japan, various railways and mining rights, as well as the right by the Japanese to propagate Buddhism in China.

At the beginning of the conference the Chinese proposed the jailing of 1000 minutes, but to this the Japanese representatives declined to agree. As a result both Japanese and Chinese kept records of the sitting. Nevertheless, from time to time the Japanese plenipotentiaries, it is asserted, insisted that the Chinese initial certain statements, which was done.

Jap References for China.

With reference to article one of group five, Japan requires amends from China, declaring that when any important crisis arises China shall call Japan to appoint "many Japanese advisers."

The peculiar wording, is the undertaking in which, the Japanese state, the Chinese foreign minister, in the article two of group five, Japan reserves the right either to null or lease lands. The Chinese express themselves far from satisfied with this, because this article, which is a separate issue from that relating to Buddhism, would have the effect of opening the entire country to the Japanese individual as well as religious societies.

Article three of group five, relating to police administration, has been withdrawn, but Japan reserves the right to appoint of police advisers and also joint Chinese-Japanese tribunals for land disputes in Manchuria, besides exteriorities, to which the Japanese like other foreigners, are everywhere privileged.

The new requirement of article four of this group is also a new demand, inasmuch as it requires that China shall send a delegation of military men to Japan to adopt a procedure for the purchase of arms and munitions of China's armaments.

The new draft of article five says that China must grant to Japan the right to build the new draft demands, subject to Japan reserving an argument with the Japanese government (British) or else must grant Japan those concessions which it can show that they already have been granted to another power. The railroads in question are lines connecting Wu-Chang with Kiangsu and Hang-Chow, between Wu-Chang and Hang-Chow, and between Nan-Chang and Chiao-Chow.

Veto Power Given Japan.

Article six of group five as amended, says that China must give Japan a veto in all cases where Japan shall receive a concession and that no foreign capital shall be employed to the province of Fokien without Japan's consent.

Regarding Buddhism, as set forth in article seven, Japan demands that Japan's right to discuss this at a future date.

The four articles in the new Mongolian provisions, which demand loans may be secured by Mongolian bonds without Japan's consent, third, no railway concessions can be granted without Japan's consent, third, the opening of a number of treaty ports to host a year.

When on Monday last La Cheng-Hsing received the new draft demands, he wished to discuss the question with the Japanese minister, but M. Hoki replied that his minister, there were to enter into a discussion, La Cheng-Hsing asked him to define the limits of the outer Mongolia. M. Hoki replied that he was without instructions on this point.

The triplicate of the new demands of Russian, Mongolian and Chinese representatives, now about to terminate at Kiakhta, is expected to define the limits of outer Mongolia, which declared its autonomy and was recognized by Russia during the Chinese revolution.

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and doubts are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your medicine, and all pleasure and happiness in my home."

Fund of $10,000,000
Proposed for Preachers
By Northern Methodists

Chicago, April 27.—Methodist ministers from all parts of the country, joined by many of the members of other denominations interested in the movement to pension preachers today had three sessions of their national convention in the interest of the ten million dollar campaign for retired ministers and conference claimants.

Among the speakers were George W. Dixon of Chicago, who announced a gift of $1,000 from his father, Arthur Dixon, to the movement, and Dr. U. G. Humphrey, financial secretary of the West Ohio conference claimants endowment fund.

"The preacher," said Dr. Humphrey, "must take what the people are willing to pay and keep sweet about it. I recall a splendid fellow doing earnest work, who received a salary, including house rent, of $150 a year. For the last three months they paid him $15, and he took great heart for the matter. He believed that the Lord had anything to do with sending him to a charge like that. I do not know of a single man who is preaching successfully who has not made from three to ten times his salary in some other calling."

HE SWEARS LAWSON
INCITED THE STRIKERS

Trinidad, Colo., April 27.—A witness who gave his name as Pat Murphy, alias J. B. Petty, testified today at the trial of John R. Lawson, the labor leader charged with murder, that at the time Lawson was telephoned by the governor of Colorado that he could not control striking miners in southern Colorado, he was telling the men to go out and fight.

Murphy took on the stand a story of seeing Lawson on the scene of the battle at Ludlow, October 25, 1912, in which John Nimmo, a deputy sheriff, in connection with whose death Lawson was tried last year. His story closely followed that told yesterday by Charles Snyder. Murphy said he went with Snyder to Ludlow the day Nimmo was killed, in an automobile loaded with ammunition.

"When we approached the Colorado and Southern railroad cut," he said, we showed what we called our flag of truce. We were stopped by Lawson and some other fellows. They were using a cut for a breakwater."

"Lawson came over to the automobile and said: 'My God, boys, if anybody hurt!' We fired about 250 shots at him, thinking it was the boss. The gunshot was one of the names and to an automobile. Lawson used by the operators during the recent strike."

"Confronted for Lawson sought to make Murphy admit he was employed by a detective agency, but he avoided such an admission."

Snyder, who was under cross-examination a large part of the day, testified he at present is employed indirectly by a private detective agency. Under questioning he declared he was receiving $15 a month through a P. O. box, connected with a detective agency; that he was hired by the Mine Owners' association to assist in the prosecution of Lawson, and that he himself was under bond charged with the murder of Nimmo, and other alleged crimes.

LABOR LEADERS ACCUSED OF RESTRAINT OF TRADE

Chicago, April 27.—Eight indictments, charging restraint of trade through alleged interference with interstate shipments, were returned in federal court here today against eight labor leaders and eight other individuals and corporations. Among the labor men indicted were:

Simon O'Ronnell, president of the Building Trades' council; Michael Boyle, business agent Electrical Workers' union; Charles W. Fry, business agent Machinists' union; Michael Arter, business agent Machinery Movers and Riggers; Frank Condon, business agent Bootmakers' union; and Raymond Cleary, former business agent Electrical Workers' union.

A number of officers of the Chicago Lighting Fixture association and the Chicago Switchboard Manufacturers' association, were named.

The indictments charge alleged interference with the shipment of ice machinery to three Chicago ice companies and a brewing company. Offenses are said to extend over a period from May, 1912, to April, 1914.

One of the indictments it was alleged that an association was formed by manufacturers and contractors of electrical switchboards, panels and rheostats called the Chicago Switchboard Manufacturers' association, which it is charged, entered into an agreement with shippers and installing in 1911 to keep out of Chicago all materials manufactured in Chicago. Members of the association and officials of the shippers are charged with having conspired, combined and made contracts in restraint of trade.

Comparing ring rule with the car-petage rule following the civil war, Colonel Paul Donohoe, candidate for ordinance, addressed the closing mass meeting of his campaign in the assembly hall of the Third National Bank building last night.

"The people of Fulton county today are, of course, better off than immediately after the civil war, but our condition is analogous to the ring would dictate a ready-made slate for ordinary or any other office, just as the carpetbaggers did under the old regime," said Colonel Donohoe, who paid a glowing tribute to the manhood of the south during reconstruction days.

"What if the rule is by trickery, scheming and juggling, rather than by the sheer force of military domination?" The meeting was presided over by Colonel W. E. Arnsperg, for many years a law partner of Colonel Donohoe.

Houston, Texas, April 27.—Flood conditions in Texas tonight continued encouraging, rains having ceased in practically all the watersheds. Streams still were out of banks, however, and rising in the southern sections of the state, but further loss of life and property is not expected.

The death list was increased to twenty-seven today by the recovery of the bodies of three Austin, Texas, and three negroes near Austin. The missing was variously estimated at from fifteen to twenty. Property damage throughout the state will exceed two million dollars. DROP PARTY BOSSES
URGED BY SCHURMAN

Albany, N. Y., April 27.—Party bosses should be dropped as "obscene institutions" and the governor of New York made the party leader in the state, Jacob Gould Schurman, president of Cornell university and a vice president of the constitutional convention, declared in an address before the Unconditional Republican club here tonight. Increasing the executive power to initiate legislation will make him the controlling influence, he continued. He declared his belief that the constitutional convention now sitting would arm the governor with this power.

"The party organization," he continued, "in the days of Platt and Hill controlled the men it nominated and by the vote of the people elected to the public office. No man could ordinarily receive a nomination who did not promise to obey the boss. The public official was at the outset of his career doomed to party subservience, the interest of the state necessarily came after the interests of the party or the machine."

Keep the Children Bright and Happy

Happy youngsters must be healthy. The digestive organs of children get out of order as readily as do those of their elders, and the result is equally distressing. When the bowels are clogged with an accumulation of refuse from the stomach, the child naturally becomes cross and fretful from the discomfort, and when medical attention is really what is needed.

The next time your child is cross and unhappy, without apparent reason, try giving it a mild laxative. Dr. Williams' Syrup of Pepsin is a mild, pleasant tasting combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, and is especially recommended for children because of its gentle action. It is sold in drug stores everywhere. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Meritt, 122 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

MAKE AGRICULTURE SELF-SUPPORTING

That Is Greatest Problem Before South, According to Dr. Knapp—Duty of Cities to Country.

Muskogee, Okla., April 27.—Agriculture as a sectional problem, railroad rates and the work of the federal department of agriculture through its national marketing committee were the leading topics discussed at the second day's session of the southern commercial congress today. The attendance was largely increased by the arrival of scores of delegates who were unable to attend the opening meetings. "Cash markets for locally grown produce should be established. The country is the important thing and in lending a hand to help the country to prosperity, a city is helping itself to prosperity," declared Dr. Bradford Knapp, head of the farmers co-operative division of the United States department of agriculture.

Self-supporting agriculture is the largest problem offering itself to the south for solution, according to Dr. Bradford Knapp.

To solve it, cash markets for locally grown produce should be established, he said. Loans should be made upon condition the farmer will make his farm as nearly self-supporting as possible.

Duty of the Cities.

Dr. Knapp pointed out that it is the duty of cities to make constructive contribution to the country surrounding them.

"The country is the important thing," he continued, "and in lending a hand to help the country to prosperity, a city is helping itself to prosperity."

The speaker pleaded against the one crop system and pointed out that millions of dollars worth of fruits, vegetables, livestock, hay and grain, imported annually into the south could be raised as cheaply there as elsewhere.

To Colonel Robert M. Hixon, a planter of South Carolina, the American farmer generally is "like an ostrich that sticks his head in the sand and won't see" the aspects that the farmer of today refuse to use business judgment and supply that for which there is a demand in such quantities as are needed.

Colonel Hixon urged the protection, through governmental or state agencies, of agriculture in the southern states by warehouse systems modeled after that of South Carolina, under which a farmer may store his crop and obtain a certificate of storage, of which he can negotiate a loan.

Warren Smith, of Columbus, Ohio, of the United States weather bureau, read a paper by L. A. Caldwell, of the bureau, telling of the work of the department for southern commerce and agriculture.

Transportation Great Problem.

Plas, that railway freight rates from the markets of the central west to the Atlantic ports shall now be made a basis for rates from the same interior points to the ports of the Gulf of Mexico, and that the rates be based on the cost of service performed were urged by J. S. Loucheby, a cattleman of Houston, Texas. Mr. Daugherty, secretary of the United States department of commerce, said that the problem of transportation is "the great unsolved problem of the nation."

"Other things being equal, as you increase freight rates, you decrease the income of the farmer," he said. "It has a particular bearing on grain since the export price of wheat practically fixes the price paid the farmer, and the entire country their grain."

The speaker cited statistics from testimony of witnesses in the interstate commerce hearing in Chicago as to the average cost of handling a car of wheat from Omaha to Galveston should cost 40 per cent of the cost of shipment from Omaha to New York.

"The question is whether each section of the United States shall have an equal opportunity to develop its resources and participate in the resultant prosperity, or whether selfishness shall triumph over justice," he asserted.

National Marketing Committee.

The scope and purposes of the national marketing committee, organized in Washington several months ago, was outlined by William S. Goodwin, a member of the committee, and a representative in congress from Arkansas.

He pointed out that owing to a lack of some central marketing intelligence, the American farmer is forced to sell his product at a price paid by the consumer for his product. He had stress on "the enormous waste in perishable products."

Mr. Goodwin said the blame not entirely upon the middlemen but asserted that "the producer should learn to market his crop in accordance with the requirements of the market and the consumer should learn better purchasing methods."

Agricultural education and agricultural co-operation as agencies to bring agriculture to its proper place were urged by C. C. Caldwell, a banker of Lakeland, Minn., who said he brought the greetings of the north to the congress.

Hamlin Lands Reserve System.

The country is smiling with prosperity as a result of the Federal Reserve bank act and as the system grows older the smile will grow into a laugh, according to Charles S. Hamlin, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank board.

Mr. Hamlin pointed out that while formerly we had the worst financial system in the civilized world, we now have the soundest.

He answered advocates of a single centralized bank by asserting that twelve decentralized banks are preferable to one centralized bank, and that the federal reserve board holds all the authority of a centralized bank.

A Card FromTHOS. H. JEFFRIES*(Candidate for Ordinary)*To the Voters of Fulton County---

I was not induced to enter the race for Ordinary by any meeting or any ring. I am not a member of any ring, neither am I supported by any ring.

Having served many years in a subordinate position, I have a laudable ambition to better my condition and surely I have as much right to make the race for Ordinary as the Coroner.

The charges of Ring and Political trickery are untrue and without foundation and are made simply for the purpose of prejudicing the voters of this County against me and are simply cheap political "Clap-Trap."

I believe the voters of this county are too intelligent to be caught by any such specious and demagogic appeals and that they will fittingly rebuke these efforts at the polls.

Speaking of rings, Mr. Donehoo came to me and besought me to join him as his Clerk upon his ticket for Ordinary, and proposed to share equally with me all the profits of the office.

I presume if I had consented, there would have been no ring; as I declined, there must be a ring or Mr. Donehoo would not have anything to talk about.

As to claim that the office of Ordinary should be filled by an attorney, I say

First, the law does not require it.

Second, Judge Wilkinson, who filled the office so long and ably, was not an attorney, and Third, eighty per cent of the Atlanta Bar are supporting me over my opponents, who are both attorneys.

Cordially,

DR. DERNBURG IS SORE AT AMERICAN EDITORS

Kaiser's Press Agent Complains That Germany Is Not Getting a Square Deal.

New York, April 27.—Dr. Bernard Dernburg, former colonial secretary of the German empire, in a statement insisted today sharply on the attitude of the American press in the present war, and said that the attitude of American newspapers on reports of the use of asphyxiating gases.

Early in November of last year," says the statement, "long reports were published of an astounding French invention for the purpose of asphyxiat-ing enemies by means of gas. The invention was said to be a gas which was the probable effects on the foe, and the ending of the war in favor of the allies, in consequence of this invention, was said to be a matter of time.

"No exception has been taken to that in America. No inquiry has been addressed to the French government of the papers, whether the news was true or not. No denial of these charges, however often repeated, has been made by the allies. But as soon as the Germans used the same kind of weapon in the battle near Ypres the denunciation of Germany for following the practice of her adversaries has been rampant and the most inventive of epithets have been employed.

lated, and the Hague conference was called into the field again to prevent the recurrence of such a crime. The

EXECUTIVE STRENGTH

VS.

DETAIL SLAVERY

The masters of industry have accomplished their results by executive work with a full knowledge of detail.

Systematic accounting has a played no small part in these successes because it has enabled these masters to know detail without actually doing the work.

A qualified Certified Public Accountant will so systematize your business affairs as to give you time for the consideration of weighty problems, and at once guard you against the results of imperfect accounts.
